Today was a typical “Sprinter Day”. Sunshine in the morning, chilly north breeze by 10 am, blustery weather by 2 pm and snowing by 6pm. We are grateful for every amount of moisture we receive. The reality is that snow and water measured totals indicate below average snow pack and water in the mountain snow. Governor Cox last week issued an Emergency Declaration for our continued drought conditions. As town officials we are committed to work with state and local water managers to minimize the impact of our limited snow pack. This will require wise water use of all our citizens. We are asking all our citizens to check all your irrigation systems, hoses and sprinklers for efficient water delivery. We encourage that you water deep and less often and then cut your grass higher. Let’s make this year a good year by being good stewards. Remember April 24, community cleanup day.
